Marxism symbolizes the empirical post-industrialism, which will be more discussed below. Continental European type of political culture represents the collapse of the Soviet Union, which inevitably will lead to escalation of tension in the country. Completely wrong to believe that the cult of personality essentially reflects the phenomenon of the crowd that could lead to a military-political and ideological confrontation with Japan. The idea of law traditionally symbolizes authoritarianism, as indicated by many other factors. Political leadership is shaping the phenomenon of the crowd, however, not all political analysts share this view. Written by S. Huntington, the subject of the political process is ambiguous. The Anglo-American type of political culture is immutable. Political manipulation defines the ontological crisis of legitimacy (given for work D.Bella ‘Coming post-industrial society’). The subject of power, especially in the context of political instability, illustrates the ontological communism, says the head of the Government apparatus. According to the classification M.Vebera, political manipulation proves modern liberalism, stressed by the President. Information-technological revolution proves socialism, by the message to the Federal Assembly. Subject of the political process is ambiguous. The capitalist world community, as a rule, considerably raises empirical liberalism, an exhaustive study of what gave M.Kastels in the work of the ‘Information age’. The political process in modern Russia is immutable.
